Women Entrepreneurship Week Conference
Wed. Oct. 17 at Montclair State University

Kelley Holland, personal finance coach, professional speaker, and award-winning business journalist, will moderate a panel of execs from Google, WeWork and PSE&G to discuss the future of innovation in the corporate world. The panel is 9:15-10:15 a.m. on Wed. Oct. 17 at University Hall Conference Center.

The Women Entrepreneurship Week (WEW) Conference also features TEDx style talks by female founders from various industries, plus a panel of funders talking about what they look for before making an investment. The WEW Conference begins 8 a.m. with continental breakfast, and ends at 2 p.m., after a casual lunch. The WEW Conference is free and open to the public, and offers top-notch networking as well as inspirational content.

The fifth annual Women Entrepreneurship Week is a global celebration of female founders and entrepreneurial corporate women. In 2018, WEW events will be held at 140+ universities in 28 countries and 38 states in the U.S. WEW started in Montclair State in 2014, and the WEW Conference is the largest event each year, drawing more than 400 attendees.
